CSP

We are pleased to be a partner congregation of the Orange County Jewish Community Scholar Program (CSP). Please join us at an upcoming program!

Antisemitism, Zionism & Anti-Zionism

Part 3 - Tuesday, June 18, 1:00 pm EDT (online)

Both in the past and present, Antisemitism, Zionism, and Anti-Zionism are interrelated and even symbiotic phenomena—and understanding their historical relationship is a critical step toward meeting the challenges they may pose for the Jewish future. To fully understand the current problem of Anti-Zionism, we must first gain a better understanding of both Antisemitism and Zionism, and hence our first lecture, on “Antisemitism,” examines the origins and dynamics of modern Jew-hatred; the second, “Zionism,” takes a closer look at the dialectic of Antisemitism and Jewish nationalism in the late 19th and early 20th centuries; and the third, “Anti-Zionism,” traces the development of Zionism and its antithesis over the past century.

David E. Kaufman, our presenter for these three sessions, was born and bred in Brooklyn, New York, and educated at the Bialik Hebrew Day School and the Yeshiva of Flatbush High School. He holds degrees from Columbia College, the Jewish Theological Seminary of America, and Brandeis University. A PhD in American Jewish History, he has taught at numerous colleges such as Brown University, University of Massachusetts/Amherst, Hebrew Union College/Los Angeles and Hofstra University. In addition to numerous articles on the social, religious, and architectural history of the American synagogue, Dr. Kaufman has authored two books: Shul with a Pool: The Synagogue-Center in American Jewish History (Brandeis, 1999) and Jewhooning the Sixties: American Celebrity and Jewish Identity (Brandeis, 2012). David currently lives on the Upper West Side and is engaged in public education, researching, writing, and teaching the history of the New York Jewish community.

Frank Stella’s Artistic Odyssey – Exploring Jewish Themes and Cultural Reflections

Thursday, June 20, 3:30 pm EDT (online)

Discover how Frank Stella, the celebrated American painter, sculptor, and printmaker, has found inspiration in Jewish themes throughout his career, from his earliest minimalist paintings influenced by the Nazi propagandist newsreels of his childhood, his mixed-media “Polish Wooden Synagogue” works commemorating “the obliteration of a culture,” and his Had Gadya narrative abstractions, illustrating the popular Passover Seder song and expressing a universal, aspirational message of justice and hope.

Jean Bloch Rosensaft is Senior Advisor to the President and Director of the Dr. Bernard Heller Museum at Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion. Over the past four decades, she has organized over 150 exhibitions and scores of traveling exhibitions at venues throughout North America and in Jerusalem. A founder and Vice-President of the International Network of Children of Jewish Holocaust Survivors and Vice President of the American Gathering of Jewish Holocaust Survivors and Their Descendants, she serves on the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum's Education Committee, and chairs the Memorial Foundation for Jewish Culture's Panel on Art and Photography.

The Sound of Now – Israel's Musical Response to a National Tragedy

Sunday, June 23, 1:00 pm EDT (online)

Since October 7th the Israeli music scene has been mourning, grappling, responding, creating and supporting. How are the radio stations thinking about the music choices? What kinds of realities are reflected in Israeli music in the months since then? In this session we'll listen to and analyze six songs from the past months to learn about the voices of different communities and explore the tapestry of reactions and sentiments that exist in contemporary Israel.

Artist and educator artist Shirel Horovitz creates performances and installations exploring cities, communities and the relations between people and space. She earned her BFA from Bezalel Academy in Jerusalem, and her MA from the interdisciplinary art program in Tel Aviv University. Her works were exhibited in museums and galleries in Israel and the U.S. She is recipient of the Rabinovich Prize 2018 and the Weismann Art Grant for 2023. A new series of her drawings are part of a new exhibition at ANU Museum and she is currently working on new sculptures in her studio in Tel Aviv. Alongside her art practice, Shirel teaches art, lectures and creates educational programs and is the creative director of CSP.
