YOM KIPPUR

Yom Kippur begins Friday evening, October 11. We are pleased to welcome you to our historic synagogue for services. Our spacious 1,100 seat sanctuary has plenty of room for you, your family and friends. Advance registration is required due to security and planning considerations. There is no charge to attend services, but donations are suggested. This year we welcome Cantor Steven W. Dress who together with Saadia Weisenberg is leading High Holiday services. Registration is available online on our High Holidays webpage by following our link below. Please register to attend Yom Kippur services by October 10.

YIZKOR BOOK

The deadline for submissions to our Yizkor book is October 9. Listings in our Yizkor book cost $18 per individual name and will be grouped in the book by the individual or family remembering their family members and friends. You do not need to live in Greater Boston, attend services at our shul or have a family connection to our community to submit names for inclusion in the Yizkor book. All are welcome, including those in our nationwide virtual learning community. We will mail a copy of the book to any U.S. mailing address shortly after Yom Kippur.

Breaking Barriers – Reflections on a Trailblazing Journey

Monday, October 7, 3:30 pm EDT (online)

Join us for an enlightening and inspiring hour-long conversation with Rabbi Sally Priesand, the first woman in the world ordained by a rabbinical seminary, in conversation with Rabbi Elie Spitz. Rabbi Priesand's journey to the pulpit was born before the feminist wave of the mid-1960s but was realized thanks to the movement's successes. Her career was marked by numerous challenges as she navigated a field dominated by male privilege. Despite these obstacles, Rabbi Priesand found a welcoming home and a pulpit at Monmouth (NJ) Reform Temple, where she served faithfully for a quarter of a century until her retirement. In this exclusive CSP online event, Rabbi Priesand will share her remarkable story, reflecting on her accomplishments, the hurdles she overcame, the significant impact she made in the world of rabbinical leadership and her vision of the future of Judaism in America. This is an incredible opportunity to learn from a true pioneer and gain insight into the history and future of women in religious leadership.

Rabbi Elie Kaplan Spitz, a spiritual leader and scholar specializing in topics of spirituality and Judaism, teaches, writes and speaks to a wide range of audiences. He served as the rabbi of Congregation B'nai Israel in Tustin, California, for over three decades and served as member of the Rabbinical Assembly Committee on Law and Standards for twenty years. Rabbi Spitz is author of Duets on Psalms: Drawing New Meaning from Ancient Words, co-authored with Rabbi Jack Riemer, Healing from Despair: Choosing Wholeness in a Broken World, Does the Soul Survive? A Jewish Journey to Belief in Afterlife, Past Lives & Living with Purpose and Increasing Wholeness: Jewish Wisdom and Guided Meditations to Strengthen and Calm Body, Heart, Mind and Spirit (all Jewish Lights) and many articles dealing with spirituality and Jewish law. Rabbi Spitz spent the past 17 months teaching the Psalms with half-hour presentations for each Psalm (recently completing all 150 Psalms!).

History & Memory – Key Themes in the Jewish Experience

Part 2 - Tuesday, October 8, 3:30 pm EDT (online)

Part 3 - Tuesday, October 15, 3:30 pm EDT (online)

Part 4 - Tuesday, October 22, 3:30 pm EDT (online)

Part 5 - Tuesday, October 29, 3:30 pm EDT (online)

This five-part series offers an insightful exploration into the pivotal themes that have shaped Jewish history and identity. Instead of attempting to cover 3,000 years of Jewish existence across the globe, this series focuses on the enduring tension between 'history' and 'memory'—a critical lens through which we will examine the Jewish people's journey from their ancient origins to the present day. Each session delves into a core theme: the nature of the Jews as a people, the centrality of Torah, the challenges and opportunities of Diaspora life, the impact of sectarianism and the birth of Christianity, and the evolution of Rabbinic Judaism through the Oral Torah. This series is designed for both newcomers to Jewish history and those familiar with its basic narratives, offering a deeper understanding of its significance and relevance for Jews today.

Session 2: Torah - The Authorship of the Hebrew Bible – This session focuses on the Torah, the central text of Jewish life. We will explore the authorship of the Hebrew Bible, discussing its composition, transmission, and the various traditions that have emerged around it. The session will also consider how the Torah has served as both a historical record and a source of ongoing spiritual and legal guidance.

Session 3: Diaspora - Hellenistic Culture & the 'Blessing' of Assimilation – In this session, we will examine the Jewish experience in the Diaspora, particularly during the Hellenistic period. We'll discuss how Jewish communities navigated the challenges and opportunities of living in a non-Jewish environment, and how assimilation has been both a threat and a blessing throughout Jewish history.

Session 4: Synagogue - Jewish Sectarianism & the Birth of Christianity – This session explores the rise of Jewish sectarianism during the Second Temple period and its role in the birth of Christianity. We will investigate the diverse religious movements within Judaism at that time and how these divisions contributed to the development of early Christian thought and practice.

Session 5: Midrash - 'Oral Torah' & the Interpretive Tradition of Rabbinic Judaism – In our final session, we will focus on the Oral Torah and the rich interpretive tradition of Rabbinic Judaism. We will explore the development of Midrash, the role of the Rabbis in shaping Jewish law and theology, and how these interpretations have kept Judaism dynamic and relevant through the centuries.

David E. Kaufman, our presenter for five sessions, was born and bred in Brooklyn, New York, and educated at the Bialik Hebrew Day School and the Yeshiva of Flatbush High School. He holds degrees from Columbia College, the Jewish Theological Seminary of America, and Brandeis University. A PhD in American Jewish History, he has taught at numerous colleges such as CUNY, Brown University, University of Massachusetts/Amherst, Hebrew Union College/Los Angeles and Hofstra University. In addition to numerous articles on the social, religious, and architectural history of the American synagogue, Dr. Kaufman has authored two books: Shul with a Pool: The Synagogue-Center in American Jewish History (Brandeis, 1999) and Jewhoing the Sixties: American Celebrity and Jewish Identity (Brandeis, 2012). David currently lives on the Upper West Side and is engaged in public education, researching, writing, and teaching the history of the New York Jewish community.

“The Good News” – A CSP 5785 Yamim Noraim Program

Thursday, October 10, 4:30 pm EDT (online)

As we celebrate the High Holidays, we invite you to join us for an insightful online session exploring our Jewish tradition's unique capacity for facing adversity with creativity and resilience. Can we find that capacity even now? Known for his engaging lectures and deep insights, Rabbi Feinstein will help us harness our historical strengths to navigate contemporary challenges.

Rabbi Ed Feinstein serves the Valley Beth Shalom (Encino, California) as a teacher, pastor and visionary leader. He is a faculty member of the Ziegler Rabbinical School of the American Jewish University, the Wexner Heritage Program and the Shalom Hartman Institute and lectures widely across the US and Canada. Raised on the frontier of the West San Fernando Valley, Rabbi Feinstein graduated from the University of California at Santa Cruz, Columbia University Teachers College, and the Jewish Theological Seminary of America, where he was ordained a rabbi and earned his doctorate in education. Rabbi Feinstein was the founding head of the Solomon Schechter Academy of Dallas, Associate Rabbi of Congregation Shearith Israel in Dallas, and Executive Director of Camp Ramah in California. He is the author of several books, including Tough Questions Jews Ask – A Young Adult's Guide to Building a Jewish Life (Jewish Lights, 2003), which was chosen for the American Library Association's Top Ten Books on Religion for Young Readers and a finalist for the National Jewish Book Award. Jews and Judaism in the Twenty-First Century: Human Responsibility, the Presence of God and the Future of the Covenant (Jewish Lights, 2007) was also a finalist for the National Jewish Book Award. Capturing the Moon (Behrman House, 2008) retells the best of classic and modern Jewish folktales. Most recently, he authored Chutzpah Imperative! – Empowering Today's Jews for a Life that Matters (Jewish Lights, 2014), in which Rabbi Feinstein urges us to recover the message of Jewish self empowerment, or chutzpah, to reshape the world. An engaging lecturer and storyteller, Rabbi Feinstein unites the ancient Jewish love of ideas with the warmth of Jewish humor.

Etrog: A Journey Through Time, Tradition, and Jewish Identity

Sunday, October 13, 7:00 pm EDT (online)

Join us for a special pre-Sukkot online event with Dr. Sharon Keller as she walks us through the captivating recent exhibit “Etrog: The Wandering Fruit” from the Bernard Museum of Judaica at Temple Emanu-El, New York (September 5–December 31, 2023). The etrog, a curious fruit rarely seen in grocery stores or kitchens, plays an indispensable role in the Jewish harvest festival of Sukkot. Its journey through Jewish history is filled with twists and turns — from medieval Jewish communities appointing emissaries to find it, to wealthy connoisseurs commissioning ornate boxes to protect it. Even today, the sole commercial grower of etrog in the U.S. is a Presbyterian! Through a collection of artifacts, manuscripts,

Amid ongoing heartache and devastation, we're proud to partner with CJP, the Jewish Community Relations Council of Greater Boston, the Israeli-American Council (IAC), the Consulate General of Israel to New England, and others across Greater Boston to commemorate the first anniversary of October 7 together with our entire community. The event will feature stories from those most directly affected on or by October 7, music to heal our souls, inspiring speakers to remind us of the resilient spirit of Israel and Israelis, and opportunities to mourn, honor survivors and heroes, and fill one another with strength and hope for our collective future.
