JEWISH JOURNEYS TO THE FAR EAST

Our new live virtual travel series, Jewish Journeys to the Far East, continues in two weeks.

Join us for the second session in our series on May 7 at 7:00 pm ET when we will visit the Jewish community in Taiwan. We will learn about how Taiwan's Jewish community began in 1955 on a military base and is now deeply rooted in the life of the island. They may have one of the world's only shuls that was unaffected by the pandemic! In fact, their Chanukah gathering of 200 during Covid may have been one the world's largest (legal) celebrations. Our guide will be Leon, an artist who co-leads the Taiwan Jewish Community together with the 102-year-old Rabbi Einhorn. Leon's art is a powerful form of storytelling and much of his latest work, including 'dream-scapes' and a Haggadah, is a journey into the exciting revival of Jewish life in that corner of Asia.

REVISITING (THE HISTORY OF) JEWISH CHELSEA

Tuesday, May 13, 7:00 pm ET (online)

Join American Jewish historian Dr. David E. Kaufman for an hour-long exploration of the Jewish past of Chelsea, lovingly called 'the Jerusalem of Massachusetts.' Dr. Kaufman will treat this remarkable history in multiple contexts, ranging from how the Chelsea experience exemplifies the Jewish relationship to cities throughout history to his own family history in the Chelsea Jewish community.

Dr. David E. Kaufman is an established American Jewish historian who earned his PhD at Brandeis University in 1994. During his graduate studies, he focused on the history of the Jewish communities of the Boston area and became well known as a popular lecturer and tour guide of Jewish neighborhoods. In the authoritative volume The Jews of Boston (CJP, 1995), he published his first major article on the synagogues of Boston. He is also a 'son of Chelsea' as his great grandfather was Asher Bookstein, the unofficial Sofer Stam (Torah scribe) of the Chelsea Jewish community. Dr. Kaufman is excited to be returning to the Walnut Street Shul to give an online talk in which he will give context to his family history by recounting the greater, and often unappreciated, history of the Jews of Chelsea, Massachusetts. Dr. Kaufman was our featured speaker for Chelsea Jewish Heritage Day in September 2024. For those who have attended programs with our partner, the Orange County Jewish Community Scholar Program, you will also recognize Dr. Kaufman as a frequent and particularly eloquent speaker there.

SHARED LEGACIES: AMERICAN LESSONS OF BLACK/JEWISH COOPERATION

Sunday, June 8, 1:00 pm ET (in-person at Williams School, Chelsea)

Please join us for a screening of the film, Shared Legacies, about Black-Jewish cooperation during the civil rights movements of the 1960s, on June 8 at the Williams School in Chelsea. Besides the film, the program will provide an opportunity for discussion with Chelsea City Councilor Leo Robinson and Janna Kaplan. Janna's late husband Edward Kaplan and his father Kivie Kaplan, Boston industrialist and former president of the NAACP, appear in the film.

Registration opens soon

My Great (and Short) Great Grandfather – Eliezer Ben Yehuda, and the Revival of the Hebrew Language

Tuesday, April 29, 1:00 pm ET (online)

Join us for a fascinating online session with Gil Hovav, renowned Israeli author and publisher, as he shares a personal perspective on the revival of the Hebrew language. Once nearly extinct for 2,000 years, Hebrew was brought back to life almost single-handedly by Eliezer Ben-Yehuda, a visionary and one of the founding fathers of Zionism. As Ben-Yehuda's great-grandson, Hovav will unveil family secrets and hidden stories passed down for over a century, offering a unique glimpse into this unprecedented linguistic miracle. Don't miss this captivating journey into history, heritage, and the power of language.

Gil Hovav, Israel's leading culinary journalist and television personality, comes from one of the most respected lineages in the Jewish world. He is the great-grandson of Eliezer Ben-Yehuda, the reviver of the Hebrew language, the grandson of Itamar Ben-Avi, who began modern Hebrew journalism, and the son of Moshe & Drora Hovav, "founding members" of Israel's modern day public radio. Gil, himself, with his illustrious career in journalism, publishing, television and as an author, has played a major role in the revival of Israeli cuisine and the change Israel has undergone in recent years, from a country of basic traditional foods into a "gourmet nation."

Collecting the Dream – Theodor Herzl, Zionism, and One Man's Passion for a Visionary's Legacy

Thursday, May 1, 3:30 pm ET (online)

In celebration of Israel's 77th birthday, join us for a special one-hour program featuring David Matlow, the world's foremost collector of Theodor Herzl memorabilia and author of Collecting the Dream. Drawing from the largest private Herzl collection in the world, David will share some of the most remarkable and meaningful items he has gathered—each one offering a window into the life, vision, and enduring legacy of the father of modern Zionism. Through these rare artifacts and personal stories, Matlow invites us to reflect on Herzl's timeless message of human rights, equality, and Jewish nationhood, and to be inspired by the dream that helped shape the State of Israel and continues to guide its future.

David Matlow is a corporate and private equity lawyer at Goodmans LLP in Toronto and past Chair of the Jewish Foundation of Greater Toronto. He was co-chair of Toronto's 2015 Campaign for the United Jewish Appeal and is a member of the board of the Ontario Jewish Archives and the iCenter for Israel Education. David founded his one person initiative, The Herzl Project, through which David hopes to inspire people to be a little like Herzl and pursue their dreams while working to improve the future of the Jewish people and the State of Israel and help build a better future for everyone.

Laundering Antisemitism – Ethnic Studies, Identity Politics and the University

Sunday, May 4, 1:00 pm ET (online)

Join us for a thought-provoking online CSP event with Dr. Marc Dollinger, as he shares insights from his forthcoming academic memoir exploring the complexities of campus antisemitism across the political spectrum. Once labeled a "self-hating leftist Jew" at a conservative college and later criticized as a "right-wing Zionist imperialist colonizer" at a progressive university, Dr. Dollinger draws from personal experience to examine how antisemitism manifests in higher education today. Through the lens of identity politics, ethnic studies, and shifting campus climates, this conversation will unpack the challenges Jewish students and faculty face and what it means to navigate academic spaces as a proudly Jewish and Zionist scholar in a polarized world.

Dr. Marc Dollinger, CSP's 20th Annual One Month Scholar in Residence in 2019, holds the Richard and Rhoda Goldman Endowed Chair in Jewish Studies and Social Responsibility at San Francisco State University. A leading scholar in American Jewish history, he is the author of four books, including Black Power, Jewish Politics: Reinventing the Alliance in the 1960s, and contributes regularly to major academic encyclopedias. His forthcoming work, Laundering Antisemitism: Identity Politics, Ethnic Studies, and the University, is an academic memoir exploring his experience as a Jewish and Zionist professor in today's political climate. Dr. Dollinger is also a dedicated communal leader, serving on numerous Jewish educational and organizational boards, including the Union for Reform Judaism and the American Jewish Historical Society.
